

Scratch 5.2

Did you create a nice Mondriaan on paper? Then now it's time to create a Mondriaan with Scratch. You see I put a little Mondriaan icon in our Scratch program and he's going to do the drawing. So rather than using a pen we're going to use the little Mondriaan head, because you don't have to use a pen for drawing you can use any sprite in fact.

So the first programming exercise that we come to do and I'm not going to show you because for a week five I think you can do it, is I would like you to make sure that our Mondriaan can paint a line. Make him make a line, make the line black and make the thickness of the line five, and try to create a line all the way from left to the right. I'm sure you can do it and I will explain more details in the next video
